

Education Wellness Guidelines

Live TheatreWorkshop is committed to continuing great theatre while keeping our patrons, artists, and staff safe from the transmission of COVID-19. We closely monitor CDC and local health department recommendations to ensure that we align with the best practices. Below are our current guidelines and expectations. These guidelines will be updated as health recommendations improve or worsen.

SELF-WELLNESS ASSESSMENT - All students are asked to ensure they are feeling well and without COVID related symptoms before attending a class/camp. Prior to arrival please complete a home health screening. If your student isn't feeling well, whether it be COVID related or common cold, they must be symptom free without the aid of medicine for 24hrs before coming to class/camp. Please contact your student's instructor if your student is not feeling well.

MASKS - The use of masks will be optional during all LTW classes and showcases for students, staff members, and audiences. Live Theatre Workshop staff members are being tested weekly for the health and safety of all our students. If health departments raise the level of community transmission, LTW reserves the right to make revisions to this plan and will advise all our families of any changes. As always, LTW will not condone treating others differently based on masking decisions or for any other reasons.

LIMITED TIME - The lobby will be open 15 min before and after class/camp time. Class check in will be at our lobby desk. Seating for showcases will open 15 mins before the show.

COVID EXPOSURE - All students, staff, patrons and volunteers are asked to remain at home if they have been in contact with someone who is known or suspected to have COVID-19 in the past 6 days.

AIR FLOW - HEPA filters and HVAC fans will run throughout the theatre to ensure a consistent exchange of fresh air.

DIGITAL PROGRAMS - There will be no physical programs. Programs can be accessed at the theatre with a smartphone and can also be emailed to you upon request.
